

THE FOLDING BED.

NEARLY CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM IN OAKLAND.

What a Resident of West Berkeley Thinks About the School and Wharf Bonds.

Caught In a Folding Bed.

Mrs. Beckett was caught in a folding bed at the Galindo Hotel, Oakland, last night and received severe injuries to her head and arm. The front part of the bed is a massive mirror set in a massive frame, and the lady was opening the bed to prepare for retiring. In some way the heavy front fell to the floor prematurely and pitched the lady on the floor beneath it.

The mirror was smashed, and the noise of the crash and screaming woman quickly brought help. Mrs. Beckett was extricated. She was badly bruised and cut by the broken glass. Dr. McCullough was called and dressed the wounds to the scalp and arm, and Mrs. Beckett is all right again except for the shock to her nervous system.

Berkeley's Interests.

EDITOR GAZETTE: As it is decided that an election will be called for the bonding of the town for $200,000 for High School, grammar schools and a wharf, we should all, collectively and individually, put our shoulders to the wheel of progress and give it a hearty push. It is absolutely necessary that all propositions should be classed as one, even though there will be separate tickets on the day of election. The fact that a majority of the benefit derived from the proposed schools will be to East Berkeley and likewise the wharf to West Berkeley, should not cut an atom of difference. Both the wharf and the schools will enhance the value of property in the whole of Berkeley. The statement that Berkeley is taxed higher in proportion as to relative values of land than any of the larger cities is a very poor argument.

It is compulsory, no matter how good or how poor land is as to market value, that a required amount of money be raised to pay the municipal expenses of a town. Now, acknowledging that Berkeley pays a higher rate than San Francisco in comparison. Why is it? Simply because the values of land in Berkeley are so much lower, and as the running expenses reach a certain amount it is necessary to tax more in proportion to the relative values.

Should both propositions carry, and there is no reason why they should not, property will enhance at least 40 per cent in value and taxes will decrease in proportion. It is now the opportunity of Berkeley to put herself in the lead in both educational and manufacturing advantages.

Both propositions are vitally wedged together. On one will depend the success of the other. The wharf will bring manufactures, mechanics and their families to fill the schools.

The schools will bring the transportation revenue to the wharf. Therefore with such splendid propositions and the advantages that Berkeley will derive from both, the people of the town should all rise as one, proclaim for both, annihilate any opposition to either, and carry the bonds by such a handsome majority that will gain us the respect and admiration for our progressiveness of the whole State of California.

Hoping you will insert the above in your valuable journal and agitate a general discussion of this subject, I am yours,
A RESIDENT.
West Berkeley, Nov. 19, 1895.

A steam schooner is discharging a cargo of lumber at Taylor's wharf.

A government launch has been lying off University wharf today, presumably surveying for the government.

A heavy explosion of some kind occurred this afternoon about two o'clock. It aroused the people of Berkeley and everybody rushed to the street to find out what the cause of it was. A few minutes later a black cloud of smoke hung over Oakland and it was thought that the shaking up must have occurred in that direction.

Republican College League.

W. D. Thompson has been appointed Chairman of the Thirteenth Department of the American Republican College League. This department includes Stanford and the University of California. The two institutions will be expected to send a delegate to the convention, which will probably be held at Chicago. Thompson is a graduate of Orchard Lake Military Academy and of the Ann Arbor Law School, being at present a member of the senior class at the University of California. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and of Theta Nu Epsilon.

High School Board.

The members were all present when the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Committee on Finance reported in the matter of employing an assistant to Mr. True as per his request on file. On account of the present financial condition of the Board of Education funds it was thought advisable to defer action until the commencement of the next term. It was so ordered.

The Committee on School Houses and Sites reported it advisable to have the new two room school building on the Kellogg school lot painted. The Board authorized the work to be done. The Committee was also authorized to have a sewer constructed from the laboratory to the public sewer. The length will be about 120 feet and the work will cost from $25 to $30.

The Committee on Supplies made a report stating that it had purchased the Standard Dictionary authorized at the last meeting.

The Committee on Classification submitted a report concerning the tuition scholars. It was found that twenty-four scholars pay a tuition. The fee for each amounts to $40 per year. This Committee recommended that 250 copies of the new rule be printed for distribution. (This rule will be found in this issue of the GAZETTE.—Ed.) The rules are for distribution among the pupils. Tuition was remitted in the cases of — Watrous, Robert Soberanis, Mrs. Mary Holcomb and the McIntosh brothers for reasons satisfactory to the Board.

Professor Waterman invited the Board to go with him and the County Superintendent of Public Schools and visit the new eight-room school building which has just been completed at Fruitvale, at a cost of about $16,000. It is understood that the visit will take place on Saturday afternoon next.

On motion adjourned.

The U. C. football team will go into secret training early next week.

The raffle for the fine bicycle at Sam Fisher's will take place on the 26th inst.

Several new residences are being erected in Lorin and it is said that quite a number of others have been contracted for.

Stockton desires to become a metropolitan city, and the Stockton Mail now announces that it will soon have a first class gambling house in operation.

George Nicholson, a teamster of Berkeley, had a suit for divorce commenced against him some time ago by his wife and was ordered by the Court to pay her alimony. Yesterday he was given one week in which to pay the alimony or else go to jail.

Marshal Lloyd is making it rather warm for tramps that float into Berkeley. As soon as one is found within the limits of the town he is notified to move on and that very quickly. If he does not he is arrested and is soon behind the bars where he can do no harm.

A masquerade ball will be given by Court Shell Mound, No. 17, Forresters of America at Lorin hall, alcatraz avenue on Saturday evening, December 14, 1895. Preparations have already been commenced to make this one of the events of the season at that portion of the town. There is no doubt but what much time will be spent in getting up elaborate as well as funny costumes for the occasion. More will be told about it at a later date.

NO NIGHT SCHOOL.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION SO DECIDES.

Leave of Absence Granted to Mrs. Neff—New Rule Passed—To be Painted.

Board of Education.

The Board was called to order by President Boone and all of the Directors answered to their names as the roll was called. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

This being the second meeting in the month there is but a small amount of business done outside of the regular routine. Consequently more time is allowed to discuss matters appertaining to the wants of this department of the government. The Directors of the Board have so arranged matters that all of the bills against the town appertaining to the school department have to be presented at the first meeting in the month. Various reports of the principals also come in at this time. It makes that meeting a busy one and leaves the following one, as stated before, free to take up other matters and discuss them to the fullest extent.

The Finance Committee reported that there would be about $1000 which could be used to advantage in improving the welfare of the schools and it was thought by them that it could be expended in the employment of another teacher, to the end of the year at North Berkeley. The rest of the members coincided with the views of the committee and adopted the report.

It being the time of year when most of people that can do so, take a vacation it was tacitly agreed that members of the Board might improve the opportunity and get away from the humdrum of educational business for the next two weeks. The next meeting will be held at the regularly appointed evening at the beginning of next month.

Director Norton suggested that instead of hiring a room at North Berkeley, that a room be finished off in the basement of the Rose street school. The Board concurring in the suggestion, directed the Committee on School Houses and Sites to advertise for bids, to be presented at the next meeting, for doing the proposed work.

The Committee on School Houses and Sites reported that the repairs called for at the last meeting of the Board had been completed at a cost of $30. There would be a few small repairs more, which could be done at small cost and the committee was authorized to have them done. It includes repairs to sidewalks etc.

The Committee on Supplies reported that they had purchased the Standard Dictionaries and such other articles which were authorized at the last meeting. The action was approved. They were also authorized to purchase a flag for the Rose street school, as the one which had been in use for a long time was worn out.

The Classification Committee reported upon the tuition scholars. There were forty-eight cases in which the question arose, and after an examination had been made in each case it was decided that forty-six scholars had a right to attend without paying a tuition fee. Two more reported upon as liable to the amount of tuition as the law required. The reasons for allowing the excuses were of a kind as thick as the leaves of Vallambrosa, or of anything else that was plentiful. The report was adopted.

When the report of the Committee on Rules was called for, Director Engbreiten brought to the notice of the Board an old rule which states that any property holder, if not a resident of the town, was entitled to send one scholar to the public schools for every $500 worth of taxable property. After some discussion this rule was rescinded and another one adopted, which is given below.

The new resolution, which will go into effect at the next term, reads as follows:

Resolved, That, non-resident pupils whose parents or legal guardians own real estate within the corporate limits of the town of Berkeley shall be allowed, for each $500 assessed value of such property, a rebate of ten per cent. from the regular tuition fee for the grade to which the pupil belongs.

This was signed by the Committee, Directors G. Swain, G. A. Norton and E. J. Wickson, and was adopted by the Board.

A communication was received from Mrs. Neff, asking for a leave of absence from the department on account of sickness. She was acting under the advice of her physician, and stated her case to the Board. Upon motion the leave of absence was granted with the permission that it should not extend beyond the 1st of July, 1896.

Mrs. Neff will probably take a trip East. Applications for positions in the departments were then read. Mary E. Cameron's application was received and her name was placed on the substitute list for West Berkeley. Miss Ruth Gilkyson's name was placed on the substitute list also. An application from E. E. Cave for the position made vacant by the granting of a leave of absence to Mrs. Neff, was acted upon and he was elected to fill that vacancy.

The matter of the petition for a night school was next brought before the Board. After discussion it was found that the employment of an extra teacher at North Berkeley would use up the balance of money now on hand. Action was deferred until the next term when the finances of the department would be better understood than it is now. It is impossible at the present time to tell exactly what the full resources of the Board are.

The Committee on Supplies were authorized to purchase books for indigent scholars in the Le Conte school. On motion adjourned.

W. B. P. Club.

The members of this club are not going to lose anything by attending the regular meeting, one of which is to be held this evening at the club's rooms. Now is the critical time when every one must put his shoulder to the wheel and help good fortune to come to the door.

There is not a person in West Berkeley that has not the building of a wharf well fixed in his mind. That it will be of vast benefit to the whole town, for what build's up one portion of it indirectly assists the other. As West Berkeley is naturally adapted to manufacturing interests and as this interest is too great for the welfare of the community to thrust it one side with a shrug as being of ordinary importance it becomes the duty of all West Berkeleys to unite their full force and obtain that which can be had if only energy is put into the fight to get it. Other objects may be of greater benefit to other people but while assisting our neighbors to obtain the object of their desires it must not be forgotten that if the people of West Berkeley do not fight for their own interests surely nobody will do it for them. The world is not constructed that way at the present time.

There is not a man or woman but that can assist in some way. To be most effective there must be concert of action and that must be led on by some good general who can control and lead his forces on to victory. Be on hand tonight and see what there is to be done and put out your strength and help do it.

It Is Said

That the people in all sections of the town will unite to give both the school and the wharf bonds almost a solid vote.

That the north wind last night scattered signs all over town.

That the warm wave is still with us but it cannot last much longer.

That the extremely warm winds and weather of the past few days has given the grass, which had just got such a nice start, quite a setback.

That a young lady in Oakland refused to be married on Sunday last because the marriage license said that her name was Johanna when it was only Hannah. The young man who does not know the name of his affianced does not deserve a wife.

That a few days ago the father of a well known young lady in West Berkeley won a goose at a raffle, which is to be offered up for a good meal on Thanksgiving day. Now there is an ordinance in Berkeley that prohibits geese running at large, and this accounts for the aforesaid young lady being out herding the goose every morning and evening.

MUST BOW TO HIM.

THE PEOPLE OF OAKLAND AND ALAMEDA

To Have Less Accommodations From the Southern Pacific Company.

The trail of wasted nickels that C. P. Huntington leaves behind him in Oakland and Alameda county will never serve as a guide to any one who might want to find the president of the Southern Pacific Company.

Mr. Huntington has impressed upon Superintendent Wilder of the Western division the idea that where one train or one boat could do the work two were not necessary; and he also hinted to Superintendent Luther Fillmore of the Narrow Gauge that where a train conductor could do the work it was hardly necessary to pay a station agent. Both of the gentlemen have acted with alacrity upon the suggestions, and the service on each line has been pared to the quick.

The most important reduction which has been made is on the creek route service of Mr. Wilder's western division. The steamer Newark was put on that route last week taking the place of the Alameda and the Garden City.

Economy was given as the reason for this change, but the fact that Mr. Huntington's fleet of ferry steamboats that were "floating palaces" in Mr. Huntington's descriptions of his road, and "floating wrecks" when the same boats came to be assessed by Assessor Dalton, is becoming somewhat depleted, aided largely in causing the change to be made. The El Capitán which formerly alternated with the Alameda in performing this service on the creek route, is now in course of reconstruction, while the Alameda has reached such a point of decay that the government inspectors are about to refuse her a service commission. So the Kentucky company found itself in need of ferryboats for California waters, and it became almost a necessity to reduce the creek route service.

The double service on the Creek route was inaugurated two years ago, when the Davie ferry was in full operation. Up to that time five or six trips a day were sufficient to accommodate the traffic. In the effort to crush out the Davie Ferry, an hourly service was instituted, along with various cuts in the fares and freight. The Davie Ferry succumbed to the competition and hard luck and as soon as that opposition was removed the ticket rates went back to almost the first notch. But the service was not reduced until President Huntington came out to California this last time. He soon found that his pet theory for operating his Kentucky property was being violated, but that is no longer so, for the extra boat has been laid off. The service has now retrograded to that which existed before the Davie Ferry was started.

Superintendent Luther Fillmore of the Narrow-Gauge route has issued an order closing the stations at Russells and at Centerville, and the conductors of the trains on that route will now have to do the work of those agents, be it freight or passenger business.

Russells is not a very large station, but considerable freight is shipped from that point. Centerville is at the end of a horsecar line connecting with the main line at Newark. It is one of the largest stations on the road. The closing of the station will force those having freight to ship or receive to go Newark, two miles and a half distant.

They may have to patronize the company's horse car line in order to do it. It will make passengers pay ten cents additional on the horse car line in order to get their tickets at Newark, for up to the present time the rate has been the same for Centerville or Newark and the ticket was good on the street-car line.—Examiner.

The case of Charles T. Kerns will be called in the court at Oakland tomorrow. It grew out of the liquor raid and it will of necessity call many citizens of Berkeley to see how the matter will end.

GAZETTELETS.

Mr. Morehead, who was hurt in the bicycle collision yesterday, was reported to be getting along all right this morning.

The fare by steamer from San Francisco to Portland, Oregon, is now $5 first class and $2.50 second class; by rail it is $10 first class including sleeper and $5 second class including sleeper. It is said that the steamer rates to Los Angeles will also be reduced. If so they will be met by the Railroad Company.

C. R. Meeker, assistant resident engineer of the Southern Pacific Company, committed suicide in Oakland yesterday by taking morphine. He has attempted suicide several times before, but was unsuccessful. This time he succeeded, notwithstanding physicians were immediately called who did all in their power to save him.

Professor Gale of the English department of the University points with a good deal of satisfaction to an article appearing in the "Educational Review" of November, which speaks of his department as having the most broadly and thoroughly planned scheme of instruction in English of any University in the United States.

Rev. George A. Swan, pastor of St. Mark's church, and Mrs. Swan, who has but recently joined her husband here, will be tendered a reception at Miss Head's school by the Ladies' Aid Society, tomorrow evening. This is intended as an occasion for the members of this church to meet socially their pastor and his wife, the spacious parlors of the school being admirably adapted to the purpose.

An entertainment in aid of the church fund will be given next Tuesday evening at the North Berkeley Congregational Church. The Omega Alpha Quartet will sing, Professor Seekamp will render selections on the violin, and Miss Rowena Robb will sing "Ashore" and the "Cradle Song." Miss Stella Ames, who is managing the affair, will recite "The Round Up." Misses Mary McCleave, Grace Dobbins, Ina Haskins, May Howell and Nellie Dobbins will appear in a moving tableau. There will be a drill by twelve little girls, and a song and wand march by a dozen misses.

It is Reported to Stand Eleven in Favor of a Life Sentence and one for Acquittal.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

Sultan Poisoned.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—A dispatch received here this morning from Sophia, Bulgaria, brings the intelligence that the Sultan of Turkey, Abdul Hamid, was poisoned last evening. No particulars have yet been received.

Stands 11 to 1.

Marysville, Nov. 19.—The Brady jury were still out at 10 o'clock this morning having been out eighteen hours, being unable to agree, and are still out. It is reported that they stood eleven for conviction with the life sentence and one for acquittal.

Bad State of Affairs.

Constantinople, Nov. 19.—In answer to a telegram from Kharcut by United States Minister Terrell, enquiring about the burning and pillaging of the American Missions, The Porte has given information and facts have been received from other sources. The Minister will communicate the facts at once to Washington, so that they cannot be given here. The Porte has been frightened at the arrival of the foreign fleet in Salicum bay. A British cruiser and the United States flagship San Francisco are expected to arrive on Monday.

May Take Savannah.

Baltimore, Nov. 19.—A telegram was received here today from Savannah which expresses much alarm for the safety of that city, and in official circles. It is stated that Maximo Gomez, leader of the insurgents, is within five miles of General Campus, near Clara. Preparations are being made to strengthen the approaches about Savannah.

Red Ruin.

Curry, Oklahoma, Nov. 19.—Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning the northeast portion of the city caught fire and now three-fourths of the town is in ashes. If the wind continues from the north, the whole town is doomed.

Hard on the Troops.

Denver, Nov. 19.—D. C. Reeman has arrived here from White river and confirms the report of the Deputy Game Warden Clark, to the effect that the United States Officers and government troops are themselves violating the game laws instead of driving the Indians back to their reservation in Utah. The slaughter of deer this year has been greater than in 1887 and it is estimated that over 10,000 deer have been killed.

Oh! what a Difference.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—At 3 o'clock this morning snow and sleet began to fall here and this morning the streets were covered with three inches of snow, sleet and mud. Telegraphic communication with the northwest is entirely blocked, and several trains on different railroads running out of this city are blocked.

Youthful Train Wreckers.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 19.—A deliberate attempt to wreck train No. 6, of the New York Central Railway, was successfully made near Rome this morning, and the engine and cars were wrecked. There were four mail cars and three passenger cars behind the engine, all of which were ditched. The engineer's mate, Hagan, and two tramps were killed. Fireman J. Wagner and postal clerks; P. Clark and J. McCarthy were injured. There were 11 postal clerks on the train and 14 passengers. The wreckers had broken into the section house and stolen the tools with which they pulled out the spikes and removed the fish plates. John Hildreth and Fred Bristol, boys, were arrested at Rome shortly afterwards by Central Hudson detectives and charged with the crime. Hildreth broke down and confessed that he, Bristol and two other boys wrecked the train, but gave no reason for it.

The wind blew strong enough last evening to throw over the brick chimney on the top of the building on the southwest corner of Shattuck and University avenues. No material damage was done as the bricks did not get farther than the edge of the roof.

WHERE NEXT?

In another column will be found the latest edict of Mr. C. P. Huntington, that of taking off one boat on the Creek route in Oakland and closing up two stations on the Narrow Gauge in Alameda. This is done under the plea of economy and is said to be just a beginning. Berkeley has long suffered an injustice from the Southern Pacific Company from the fact that its citizens and visitors to the town from the interior are compelled to pass through Berkeley to Sixteenth street station, Oakland, and then have to pay a ten cent fare to get back to Berkeley. This fact alone has caused Berkeley a loss of population, and is a great inconvenience. Twice every year hundreds of students who live in the interior of the State are compelled when leaving Berkeley for their homes, to go to Sixteenth street in order to get their train and they have to pay a ten cent fare to get there. Upon returning they have to do the same thing. Every train on the Southern Pacific Road except the San Jose trains pass through West Berkeley, yet none of them are allowed to stop there. If a person at Sacramento desires to purchase a ticket to Berkeley he is sold a ticket to Sixteenth street.

On the railroad guides Berkeley is not mentioned. In fact, Berkeley is entirely tabooed by this great corporation so far as accommodations are concerned. Oakland and Alameda have half-hourly trains all day, while Berkeley has them only a portion of the day. Alameda has two lines of road, while Berkeley has but one. The Alameda cars are the finest on the road, while the Berkeley cars are the poorest. In West Berkeley one car called the Elephant is run to and from Shell Mound, and it is not as good as the poorest emigrant car on the road. The depot in Alameda is a large and commodious one, while the one at Berkeley station is a disgrace to this beautiful town. Now, the discrimination that has so long been shown Berkeley is to be practiced on Oakland and Alameda, and of course that will mean that Berkeley will be still further discriminated against.

There is one grand way for our people to prevent this discrimination and bring Mr. Huntington of Kentucky to a proper realization of Berkeley and its people, and that is to vote for the bonds for a wharf. If the town builds a good wharf as proposed there will be a line of passenger steamers running between West Berkeley and San Francisco that will travel much faster than the trains and boat connection now having to be made. Local freight will also be much cheaper. This will compel the Southern Pacific to give the people better railroad service, and as the Vallejo and Stockton boats will also touch here the Railroad Company will be compelled to stop its trains here. The people of Berkeley have this matter in their own hands. They can either submit to the tyranny now being heaped upon them by the Southern Pacific road or they can shake off the shackles that now bind them, by voting for bonds to build a wharf. The benefit is not to West Berkeley alone but is to every part of Berkeley. Citizens of Berkeley, now is the opportunity of your lives to escape from the Octopus. Will you do it? Then vote for bonds.

A Cincinnati judge has decided that no reserved seats to a theater could be sold after the doors were opened for any given performance. Another lot of government surveyor were making soundings off West Berkeley today.

WHAT WE WILL GET!

A gentleman who is a resident of San Francisco, who has a large machine shop in that city, was a visitor to West Berkeley last evening, and in conversation with several of our citizens he stated that it was his desire to locate his shops on this side of the bay, hence he was very much interested in the agitation going on for a wharf at West Berkeley. He said that just as soon as the wharf bonds were voted upon and carried, he would commence the erection of large and commodious buildings at West Berkeley, into which he would place the most modern and improved machinery, the building and machinery to cost almost as much as the entire bond issue of $200,000, and that on the day the wharf is finished he will start his works. He is now employing in San Francisco eighty-five machinists, besides a large amount of unskilled labor. His reasons for coming to this side of the bay are that his lease in San Francisco will soon expire, and it cannot be renewed except at a very largely increased rental, and that he now pays enough rent every year to complete the purchase of a site in West Berkeley within three years.

There are dozens of other factories in San Francisco that will come here if we show them that we have wharf facilities, whereby they can ship to and from here without being in the clutches of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company.

"We want to come to Berkeley," said the gentleman above referred to, "and a large number of manufacturers are watching your wharf question with a great deal of interest, because it means much to them as it means much to you."

West Berkeley has been left in darkness for the past two nights, owing to the electric lights not burning. A great many of the business houses in that end of the town use the incandescent lights, and they have been very much put out at their not burning. The arc lights have been in the same fix and last evening some wag placed a candle at the intersection of San Pablo and University avenues and many declared that it was as effectual as the one arc light that now hangs there.

Theodore Durrant will appear before Judge Murphy on Friday next for sentence. Before sentence is pronounced, his attorneys will move for a new trial, but it is not probable that it will be granted. He will then be sentenced to death, and if the sheriff of San Francisco does his duty he will have him in San Quentin before night.

Col. L. L. Bromwell was a visitor to Berkeley today. There have been so many new residences erected here since his last visit that he thought he had made a mistake in the town.

Kovalveo, the Russian murderer on trial for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Webber in Sacramento, was placed on the stand yesterday and testified that he had seen the Webbers murdered and was with the murderers at the time.

Lorenzo De Ferrer, who, while having a wife in Santa Cruz, came to Temescal and married another, was convicted of the crime of bigamy at San Jose yesterday.

The Dwight Way Bazaar Has just been opened by Miss Lockyer as a variety store. Dry and fancy goods, gent's furnishing goods, ladies' underwear, Christmas toys, etc.

When you take the electric cars to go to Oakland get off at Thirteenth and Washington and turn to your left, and stop at 1153 Washington street at Mrs. L. C. Marvin's Hair Parlors. Mrs. Marvin also keeps a ladies' employment office; select help; best of references.

Lost-A birth book. Finder will please return same to Mue. Kohne, midwife, on Eighth street between University avenue and Addison street, West Berkeley.

Whoa, Thar! And step into Schmidt & Zehner's in the Shattuck Block and inspect those bread and cake knives they sell for 50 cents. If you need any hardware, bird cages, pocket knives or tacks for bicycles. They have them. Call for anything in their line, and it will appear.

Don't go to Oakland for your wood and coal, when Ramos & Renas guarantee to sell to you just as cheap. You can secure from their yard, oak wood, red wood and pine wood, and all kinds of coal, horse hay, cow hay and feed of all kinds at the very lowest prices. Yard, corner of Addison and Eighth streets, West Berkeley.

The Crown Prince's Pigeons.
 General von Verdy du Vernois tells a pleasant story about the war of 1870. At Villeneuve-le-Roi he was obliged, for want of time, to refuse an invitation to lunch. A brother officer rushed out of the house with a ragout, which Verdy ate with gusto. A few days later the old Emperor William said to him at dinner: "That is a pretty affair of yours. My son has told me all about it."

"What affair does your majesty refer to?" asked Verdy.
 It was this: The crown prince had received the news that two carrier pigeons had been caught, and he had ordered them to be sent to Versailles. On returning home in the evening he found the following telegram:
 "Lieutenant Colonel Verdy has just eaten them."

They had furnished forth the ragout at Villeneuve-le-Roi.—Realm.

Location of Eden.
 We are now informed that the true location of the garden of Eden is in the interior of Africa, somewhere near the sources of the Nile. We are told that all the "conditions" favor this location. It is a sad fact that the friends of other locations are equally sanguine. For instance, President Warren of Boston university wrote a volume to prove that the true location of Eden was at the north pole. It will be noted that we have no mention of Eden anywhere in the Bible after the first chapter of Genesis.—Hartford Religious Herald.

Likes and Dislikes.
 Flossie was being urged to get up one cold morning and did not respond quickly to her mother's suggestion of a sponge bath. "You do as you like, mamma," she said, "and let me do as I like. You like to be cold and clean, and I like to be warm and dirty."—New York Times.

Those Appropriate Gifts.
 To a silver wedding celebration recently a pious old lady sent as a present a pair of flatirons, a rolling pin and a motto worked on a cardboard, reading, "Fight on!"—London Telegraph.

Mrs. N. E. Williams, who conducts the Delaware street notion store, is doing a flourishing business. The reason for this is because she sells her goods at a small profit, and consequently sells a large amount. Toilet soap is sold three cakes for 25 cents; Coate's machine cotton, six spools for a quarter; tobacco of all kinds, three packages for 25 cents and all other goods in proportion.

We Want More All Round Work.
It is clear that we cannot look round and take note of our contemporaries in any department, in life without feeling certain that many who stand in the first rank are not indebted in any way to any physical powers which they may have cultivated for the development of their mental organization, and I may include in that observation also some men of past history. Yet, as a matter of history, the physical development comes first and proves that good physical work should be cultivated. The danger lies not in the cultivation of it, but in the overcultivation, and the tendency now is toward the latter.

I can remember when exercises of a physical kind were limited in number; when cricket and rowing were almost the only ones, and when rowing was the only exercise that led to any considerable risk of overstrain. Now both these exercises are being pushed to excess, while others which are very popular, such as football, cycling and pedestrianism, are alluring men to an overcultivation of certain parts of the body that should be shunned; that destroys its own object, in so far as bodily perfection is concerned, and that certainly when it renders the body imperfect, injures the mind of the owner and of those who unfortunately spring from him.—Sir B. W. Richardson in Saturday Review.

How Ants Kill a Snake.
That ants can actually kill snakes is a hard thing to believe. There is irrefutable evidence, however, that they do, and scientists have discovered that the snake has hardly a more dangerous enemy. The large red brown forest ant is the sort that is the most fatal to snakes, and a curious thing about the attack of these tiny creatures on this comparatively enormous reptile is that they kill it for food and not on account of any natural antipathy.

When some of the ants catch sight of a snake, they arouse the whole community at once. In platoons and battalions the little fellows set upon the reptile, striking their nippers into its body and eyes at thousands of points at once. With such rapid movement and such splendid concentration is the attack made that the snake has no chance at all of escaping. It is like a thousand electric needles piercing him at once. The snake soon becomes exhausted, and dies ignominiously.

Then the ants set harder at work. They begin to tear off the flesh in small pieces, gradually stripping away the skin and working underneath. Not until they have carried off everything except the bones and the skin itself do they retire.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Famous Old Willow Wane.
You may know a plate of old willow ware by this decoration: On the right there is a mandarin's country seat. In the foreground there should be a pavilion, in the background an orange tree and to the right a peach tree. The place is inclosed by a fence, and through the estate there should wander a brook, and in this brook there is an island high at the left side with a cottage on it. Over the brook there is a bridge, and on it there should be three figures. The willow tree, the famous willow tree, is at one end and a gardener's cottage at the other. Two birds are high in the air above the picture. The whole is supposed to tell the romance of the mandarin's daughter, who is one of the figures on the bridge. The others are her lover and the mandarin himself. The birds are turtle doves into which the lovers were changed by the gods that they might escape to wrath of father mandarin, who pursued them.—New York Post.

A Mountain of Gold.
The most famous and most puzzling of all gold mines is the Mount Morgan. It appears, from one of the Sydney papers, that it contributes more precious metal to the world's treasure than any other patch of the earth's surface of the same extent. Mount Morgan is supposed to be the product of a thermal spring and is simply a mountain of gold, but of gold that has already been treated by nature. In some far-off age the hill has been a huge natural crucible, and all the gold it contains has been already mined, chemically dissolved and precipitated by nature herself. No speck of gold larger than a pin's point has ever been discovered in the mountain. The precious metal exists in a sort of golden flour, dissolved through ironstone.—Westminster Gazette.

Took to Welsh.
It is seldom that a man so masters a foreign language that he can express himself therein with great facility. A Welshman, after attempting to take part in a prayer meeting conducted in English and finding it very difficult to express the fervor of his heart in the partially acquired tongue, suddenly broke the halting and laborious sentences with a joyful exclamation: "Lord, I thank thee that thou knowest Welsh!" and straightway launched upon the sea of guttersals which came so readily to his lips.—New York Observer.

Milk.
Milkmen sometimes find in summer that the morning's milk will sour, while that of the evening before is still sweet. The reason for this is milk when drawn from the cow is at a temperature best adapted for bacterial growth. The night's milking is cooled overnight, whereas the morning's milk is poured directly into the cans, and the bacteria which have entered it are well started on their growth before the night's milk is warmed by the air.

A Practical Education Was Here.
"Then you have learned to love me already?" he rapturously cried. Straight into the eyes of the man with a million looked she. "Yes," she answered, and her words thrilled him strangely. "I was given a practically practical education."—Debutante.

IN THE DRUG STORE.

CHARACTER SKETCHES AT FOUNTAIN AND PRESCRIPTION DESK.

Funny Stories That Beat the Old Postage Stamp Joke—Tricks Played by Patrons as Well as by Clerks and Physicians. Some St. Louis Samples.

The time honored jokes in the funny papers about people who buy stamps in a drug store and want them wrapped up and delivered may be old to the average reader, but they are new every day to the drug dispensers. Such ridiculous things are everyday occurrences. A well known druggist tells of an instance when he was night clerk in a west end drug store. About 5 one morning a vigorous ring at the night bell roused him from peaceful slumbers. He came down wearing one shoe, such miscellaneous clothing as he could pick up in a hurry and a decidedly cross appearance. At the door was a nicely dressed lady. Would he kindly sell her a stamp? She had an important letter which she must mail, and as she also desired to catch the 6:30 train she feared she would forget it. The stamp was sold to her, and then very sweetly and innocently she inquired if he would not, since she was in such a hurry, walk to the corner and mail the letter for her. As he had worn only one shoe down he regretfully declined the honor.

The soda dispenser in the drug store usually sees and enjoys more peculiarities than any of the drug clerks from the fact that he is not bothered with any of their responsibilities. His greatest trouble is in deciding whose money he shall take in the case of young ladies who drink soda together. If it were men, each would be anxious to pay for the beverages. In the case of young ladies, however, each is apparently anxious not to pay for the drink. Then they argue with each other on about this line: "No, let me pay." "I will not, I think I should." "Oh, I'll be awful angry if you do." And all the while, says the soda dispenser, they are hanging on to their dimes with a deathlike grip. The soda man finally solves the problem by taking the money of each and returning the change to each, making it a "Cincinnati treat."

The proverbial joke about the man who winks his eye at the apothecary when he wants a "stick" in his soda is not a fiction. Various excuses are made to get liquor, but the standard and most usual is a terrible pain in the stomach or else a threatened chill. The druggist always suggests Jamaica ginger. This suggestion is never satisfactory, as it is whisky they want. A favorite trick is to ask for a dose of calisaya, which, to be thoroughly effective, must be mixed with whisky.

The "fends" who make life miserable to the druggist are legion. They are fends who are addicted to phenacetin, to bromo seltzer, to quinine, to arsenic, to strychnine and to morphine. There are also people who are addicted to the use of wine of cocoa. The drink contains a quantity of cocaine in solution and has a revivifying effect on the system. There are quinine fiends who take as much as 150 grains a day. Not long since a St. Louis physician prescribed this drug to a patient, ordering it to be put in six powders of 50 grains each. The patient, a lady, took it all in 24 hours, and, strange to say, got well. There are several people in St. Louis who are addicted to the use of aromatic spirits of ammonia and vichy. They drink it with great gusto.

The morphine fiend is a shrewd and discriminating buyer. One of the usual excuses when the fiend is a woman is that the drug is "for mamma." Poor mamma! She has many sins to answer for of which she is guiltless. Some of the fiends can tell the brand of morphine by the taste and will have none but their favorite. One hopeless case has become so expert on the quantity that he usually takes—three grains—that with a dash of the bottle he can throw the exact quantity into the palm of his hand. The druggist with whom he usually deals has verified the weight of the dose thus prepared many times and invariably finds it correct to a fraction of a grain.

The drug store is a favorite place for leaving bundles, valises, etc. Many of the packages left are never called for. A lady left a bundle in an Olive street establishment a year ago that contained two dozen suits of underwear and has never returned for them. At the same drug store a well dressed man left his valise, containing clothing, papers, a shaving set and many miscellaneous articles, and never came back. The strangest case of the kind was a man who left his wife at a downtown store about 9 o'clock, promising to return in ten minutes. At 10 o'clock, closing time, he had not returned, so the druggist sat down to wait for him, not caring to turn the lady out on the street. At 12:15 a. m. he dropped in, much the worse for wear, and then there was a scene that repaid the druggist for his long vigil.

People who get hurt on the streets in any manner always go to the drug stores to be patched up. They claim treatment of this kind apparently as a right and part of the duty of the druggist to the public, and in nine cases out of ten do not even express their thanks for the service rendered them.

Physicians' prescriptions would often tell the sick person something they did not know if they could understand them. Chalk and distilled water for nervousness, sugar pills for headaches and pink water for dyspepsia are frequent prescriptions.

There is an old gentleman who patronizes a South St. Louis drug store who thinks he is a confirmed morphine fiend. He began the use of morphia for insomnia. The first prescription called for chalk, but it put him to sleep, and he has had it refilled every day since. He sleeps like a babe at night, except when he misses his usual dose, and then he walks the floor until he gets it.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
